

1

Off to school. SHARAN workers help parents enrol their children at school, and encourage children to attend.

2

A woman from the community receives medicine from the SHARAN clinic. Poor people have trouble seeing a doctor or getting medicine when they are sick. SHARAN has set up a clinic to help them.

SHARAN workers visit people who live under the bridge. They make friends with them, and work out how they can help them with their problems.

4

Making biscuits. Tutorial classes also do fun activities, like making biscuits.

5

A sewing class. Older girls (like Taniya) are taught how to sew, so they can earn a living.

A tutorial class. Many children have missed a lot of school. They need help with their homework, because their parents haven't been to school.
